

Shaffer (center right) teaching at a convention

Broadway Dance Center's DAY OF DANCE

On March 29, New York City's Broadway Dance Center hosts its first Day of Dance, with performer and choreographer Matthew Shaffer as guest of honor. Shaffer, who has danced with Giordano Dance Chicago, will release his book on breaking into the professional dance scene, So You Want to Be a Dancer. Day of Dance—part of BDC's Industry Insider series—also includes a mock audition, led by Shaffer; a Q&A session with a panel of choreographers, agents and professional dancers; and an appearance by the Radio City Rockettes.

Jaclynn Villamil

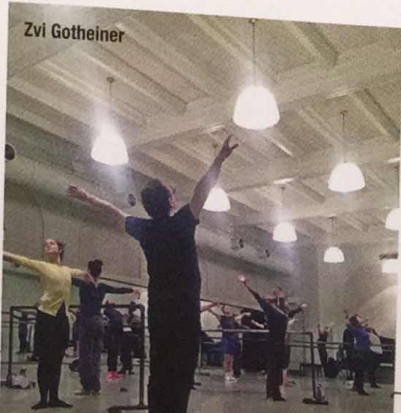

ADF Honors Three Ballet Teachers

The American Dance Festival names Zvi Gotheiner, James Sutton and Jaclynn Villamil as recipients of the 2015 Balasaraswati/Joy Ann Dewey Beinecke Endowed Chair for Distinguished Teaching. Gotheiner founded his own company, ZviDance, in 1989 and teaches a popular daily ballet class at New York's City Center Studios. Sutton danced with Houston Ballet and was a professor at New York University's Tisch School of the Arts for 14 years before becoming ballet master and resident choreographer of New York Theatre Ballet. Until 2012, contemporary ballet teacher Villamil was on faculty at NYU, where she directed the Second Avenue Dance Company. She was also a part of ADF's faculty for 10 years.

James Sutton (in black)

Zvi Gotheiner